

Anjuna vs 14 Competitors — What the Numbers Show

Every publicly available parameter for the Uluwatu/Bingin comp set — price, operator scale, ratings, review depth, badges, direct booking, cancellation. Each value tagged for source; nothing estimated.

Theme

The one number nobody shows: occupancy. Per-villa occupancy is not public for ANY of the 14 competitors — analytics tools (AirDNA/Airbtics) don't expose it in free previews and OTAs never do. Only market averages exist (Uluwatu ~50–62%, RevPAR ~$130). Anjuna's ~85% is an operator claim. To verify occupancy for anyone needs a paid AirDNA pull; for Anjuna, the Guesty report (requested in due diligence).

WHERE ANJUNA STANDS

Top-tier product, bottom-tier commercial wrapper

RATINGS & REVIEW DEPTH

Top cluster

4.87–5.0★; B1's 86 + A14's 44 reviews out-depth most new-builds. A genuine strength.

BOOKING.COM SCORE

Weakest scored

8.7 vs the 9.0+ wall (Ayora 9.8, COZ 9.3–9.6, Young Villas 9.4). Booking guests sort on this.

PRICE & TERMS

Cheap + rigid

$144 mid-low but non-refundable, while Ayora/COZ/Marghe/Palmera allow free cancellation.

DIRECT BOOKING

Behind the pack

Guesty, 1 unit indexed. Rivals run own sites/engines (COZ, NOUR, Zylah, Young Villas, Uluwatu Surf).
